AREA 9 IN-HOME & COMMUNITY SERVICES AGENCY LAUNCHES HOLIDAY CAMPAIGN TO HELP OLDER ADULTS AND CAREGIVERS MANAGE RISING COSTS OF PRESCRIPTIONS DURING TOUGH ECONOMIC TIMES

As Older Adults Continue to Spend More Money Each Year on Prescription Drugs, Area 9 In-Home & Community Services Agency, Eldercare Locator and Consumers Union Release Tips and Information to Help Fayette, Franklin, Rush, Union and Wayne County Seniors and Caregivers Manage Prescriptions and Make Smart, Economical Health Care Decisions

Area 9 In-Home & Community Services Agency announced today that the organization has launched an effort in conjunction with the Eldercare Locator, a public service of the U.S. Administration on Aging, and Consumers Union, a nonprofit publisher of Consumer Reports, to assist older adults and their caregivers in making smart, economical health care decisions. In the U.S., three-fourths of people over 45 take prescription drugs, with an average of four medications each day¹ and by 2010, annual per person spending on drugs for older adults is projected to reach $2,810 a year, an increase of 133 percent over spending in 2000². The “Home for the Holidays” medicine management campaign is launched specifically during the holiday season so that Area 9 families gathering together can discuss the issue, evaluate the current situation, and implement a management plan that will help older adults make smart, economical health care decisions to start off the New Year.

“Each day, many older Americans open up their medicine cabinets and find them filled with countless numbers of bottles. The use of multiple medications may increase the likelihood of medication misuse,” said Kathy Greenlee, Assistant Secretary for Aging, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. “There are some simple steps older adults can take to ensure that they are taking their medicines correctly and are getting the best value. The intention of our holiday campaign is to provide the aging population and caregivers with tools to remove the stress from the medicine management process.”

Eldercare Locator’s seventh annual “Home for the Holidays” campaign seeks to provide useful tools and information about prescription drug management through a new brochure, Prescription Drug Options for Older Adults: Managing Your Medicines. The brochure provides tips on how to more actively participate in health care decisions by managing prescription drug options, including suggesting resources for creating a medicine record, talking to doctors about medicines and cost-saving steps such as generic drugs and competitive pharmacy pricing.

“Family gatherings during the holidays are great opportunities for conversations about a loved one’s wellbeing, including medicine management and costs,” said Sandy Markwood, CEO of the National Association of Area Agencies on Aging (n4a). “During tough economic times, prescription medicine management is a particularly serious issue because it can affect your health and your wallet. Understanding the options available can help older adults and their family members better manage health conditions, reduce the chance of harmful drug interactions and get the best value for their medicines.”
