Starr Jordan Scholarship
IU East Guidelines

1. Applicant must be a degree-seeking student enrolled in an undergraduate or graduate program on the IU East campus.
2. Applicant must be pursuing no less than three credits on an (IUE based) OSAC-approved overseas studies or exchange program.
3. Students must have a minimum GPA of 2.75 to apply.
4. The International Programs Committee considers the following ranked criteria:
   a. Academic standing
   b. Financial need
   c. How study abroad will contribute to a student’s overall academic/career goals
   d. Quality of Statement of Purpose regarding benefit of study abroad
   e. Anticipated long-term effect of study abroad on study and/or career plans
   f. Academic strength and preparedness, maturity, and adaptability
   g. Other criteria deemed relevant by the Committee
5. The committee overseeing the competition will determine student need based on a narrative statement from the student that makes a compelling case for financial assistance to make overseas study possible.
6. Preference will be given to students who have not spent an appreciable period of time in a foreign country.
7. Each grant will be for a total of $350.
8. The grants will be divided among IUE credit-bearing programs approved through IU’s Overseas Study Advisory Council.
9. The annual application deadline(s) for this scholarship, which is funded on an academic year basis, will be announced during the fall semester.
10. The David Starr Jordan Scholarship selection committee, composed of the faculty coordinators and another IU East faculty, will review the applications based on the criteria indicated above.
